COLLECTION NOTE

From 1992 to 1999, the Tour of Kentucky folk Music, a program of the Kentucky Arts Council, provided Kentucky musicians the opportunity to present regional folk music around the state. From 1992 to 1999, more than sixty concerts featuring diverse folk artists were produced representing the five cultural regions of the state. In 1996, Kentucky Educational Television (KET), presented a series of four one-hour programs that included some of the Tour's artists. Tour concerts utilized artists that were nominated and selected for the tour roster by a panel of folklorists, ethnomusicologists, and other cultural researchers and were based on the artist's authenticity and artistic merit. Each tour was accompanied by a knowledgeable presenter who introduced each musical group and a printed program to help interpret the styles and aesthetic backgrounds of the performers.

In Box 2 of the collection, Folder 1-12 include cassette tapes, while Folders 13-26 include videocassette tapes.
